Take time to relax...safely

By the time you read this the 4th of July will have come and gone! The first half of the year has flown by! It seems like January was maybe two months ago, and December will arrive just as quickly. Before summer slips away, I hope each of you take some time to relax and enjoy yourselves. Most of us are more productive if we take some time to recharge our batteries. As you take time to boat, swim and travel, please remember to take all the proper precautions and play it safe. Each summer the Air Force loses 15-20 people to accidents, and drunk driving. Please take the steps, wear the proper gear, rest before driving distances, etc., so you do not become a footnote on this summer's statistics. We, your family, friends and communities, need you safe, sound and present for duty. On July 25th the first 908th Yellow Ribbon event will be held at a local hotel. Those who have returned from deployment and their families will be offered education and services on a number of fronts. Topics for the event include: education and VA benefits, pay and entitlements, personal finance and budgeting tips, TRICARE, and various Family Readiness issues. For your information we've included the wing's calendar of events for the second half of the year in this issue. Please use it as a reference to plan your activities through December. While a couple events on our calendar loom large, we are in a long distance race. We need to arrive at the end of this year with our task (the ORI) complete, and the energy to spring into the deployments next year. Take care of yourselves and maintain a balance between work and family time so you enjoy life, not just survive it.

Col. Brett J. Clark, Commander, 908th Airlift Wing

Chapel staff is right by your side

By Chaplain (Capt.) Jamie Danford
908th AW Chaplain's Office

The 908th AW has been growing and evolving in many ways over the recent year. We want to let you know that the chapel section is right beside you. Some of you may not be aware of the role of chaplains and chaplain assistants. Here is a brief overview of how we can support you, as well as a few questions about how we can change to better fit your needs and schedules. The chapel provides all Airmen - regardless of rank or faith group - with a safe place for confidential counseling, advice and support. Chaplains are highly trained pastors and counselors that can give you guidance during both the high and low points that occur in your life. Chaplains are held to a standard of confidentiality that will not be broken.

Southern Flyer

This funded Air Force Reserve Command newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the U.S. military services. Contents of the "Southern Flyer" are not necessarily the official views of or endorsed by the U.S. Government, Department of Defense or the Department of the Air Force. Editorial content of the "Southern Flyer" is edited, prepared and provided by the 908th Airlift Wing Public Affairs Office. All photos are Air Force photos unless otherwise indicated. We solicit articles, drawings and photographs and reserve the right to edit materials to conform to "Southern Flyer" editorial policies. Because of the printing and mail-out schedule the newspaper goes to press on Friday, two weeks prior to the unit training assembly. The submission deadline for articles or information is the Monday two weeks prior to the UTA. Send inquiries and submissions to 908AW/PA, 401 W. Maxwell Blvd., Maxwell AFB, AL 36112 or e-mail them to 908aw.pa@maxwell.af.mil. Our phone number is (334) 953-6804 or DSN 493-6804; our Fax number is (334) 953-2202 or DSN 493-2202. For information about this schedule, call Jeff Melvin at (334) 953-7874.

The enlisted staff in the chapel section are also there to lend you support. These enlisted personnel are called chaplain assistants. While the chaplains are the designated pastors and counselors, chaplain assistants are still held to the same standard of confidentiality. If you need pastoral counsel, any chaplain assistant will be able to direct you to a chaplain. During the course of your duty day, you may see a chaplain or chaplain assistant walking around the base. The chapel team strives to have a strong presence in each individual unit. Stop us and introduce yourself! We will always try to avoid interrupting your important work, but if you have a few spare moments, feel free to take a break with us. If you have something on your mind - whether a burden or a blessing - you can talk to us right then and there or set up an appointment to come by our office. You will see a literature rack full of various religious and inspirational reading material in most unit buildings. The unit literature racks are stocked on a monthly basis in preparation for the UTA. Everything in the rack is free; help yourself! If your faith group is not represented amongst the literature, contact us at the number listed below, or stop by our office (located in the headquarters building). We can readily provide Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Muslim and Latter Day Saint material. If we do not have material for your faith group we will make every effort to obtain it. Every Sunday of UTA the chapel holds a general Christian service in the 25th APS classroom. This service lasts from 9 to 9:30 a.m. We would love to see you there! Because the time and location of this one service might not suit everyone, we are considering having a second general Christian service in the headquarters building. If you would be interested in attending this service, please email us with suggestions on what time frame would be best for you. We will do our best to schedule a service that will meet the spiritual needs of the wing while avoiding any conflict with operational and training missions. If you have any questions about the 908th AW Chapel Section, please contact us at (334) 953-5372. You can also visit us in the headquarters building. We are located on the second floor opposite of the finance section.

Blessings,

The 908th AW Chapel Staff

2009 Civic Leader Tour Visits Pope

Twenty six civic leaders from across central Alabama departed Maxwell after the record breaking rainfall the morning of May 7th. For two days the group toured Pope and Fort Bragg, visiting the 440th Airlift Wing, the Combat Controller School and met with their Fayetteville, N.C. counterparts. Photo above is a group shot taken on arrival at Pope. To the left, Bob Snider shows Leslie Bailey, Stephanie Godwin and Dan Danmueller his original concept drawings for the Combat Controller school house. This was Snider's first visit to the building he largely designed.

On the top of the next page, Charlotte Meadows, a member of the Montgomery County Board of Education, tries on a helmet with the assistance of life support specialist Senior Airman Heiden. Finally on the lower left, Mr. Randy George, Executive Director of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce talks with Mr. Gary Cooper, his counterpart with the Fayetteville Chamber.

Chief Master Sergeant Lynn Whited prepares to load a tractor aboard a wing C-130 for a flight to the Dominican Republic. The tractor, mower deck, and tiller attachment were donated through Global Impact Inc. a Prattville based charitable organization. The movement of humanitarian and relief goods by Air Force units was authorized by the Denton Amendment. The Denton amendment was named after its sponsor, Alabama Senator Jeremiah Denton. Daystar Baptist Missions will use the tractor to assist local Dominicans in raising food for themselves and their livestock.

908TH AIRLIFT WING TOP THREE ASSOCIATION

The 908th Airlift Wing's Top Three Association's objectives are to develop, enhance, and promote the professional image of the 908th Airlift Wing, to improve the quality of life of NCOs and airmen, and to promote activities that increase job satisfaction. Two components vital to the success of these objectives are first, to elect an executive board that illuminates the core principles outlined in the overall objectives of the Top Three. To that end, the following individuals were recently elected to the 908th Airlift Wing's Top Three Executive Board:

President.....MSGT Kenneth Wright
Vice President.....MSGT Roderick Parker
Treasurer.....MSGT Sharon Jones
Secretary.....MSGT Peggy Thomas

The next key component is membership; to challenge each organization to achieve 100% Top Three Membership. Top Three Membership is voluntary and open to all Chief Master Sergeants, Senior Master Sergeants and Master Sergeants. Although membership is voluntary, Senior NCO mentorship is not. Membership in the Top Three offers Senior NCOs an opportunity to mentor Airmen and Junior NCOs through the collective efforts of the entire body of the Wing's SNCOs. It also allows SNCOs the opportunity to network, benchmark, and learn from each other.

Membership in a Professional Organization is often considered an important criterion for advancing your professional career. By joining the 908 AW Top Three Association you're also joining a network of supporters for the NCO Induction and SNCO induction ceremonies, Quarterly Airmen Mentoring Sessions, Annual Awards and Family Day, just to name a few. Membership dues are $15.00 annually and may be paid to your units Designated Top Three Representative, First Sergeant, Chief or directly to members of the Executive Board.

'Live to play, play to live'

While Airmen and their families are encouraged to 'live to play, play to live', safety is of the upmost importance during the 101 Critical Days of Summer campaign which runs from Memorial Day, May 22, to Labor Day, Sept. 7. This Air Force-wide campaign is designed to reduce the number of accidents and mishaps during a time of year when mishap and accident rates traditionally increase. In 2008, the Air Force experienced its lowest fatality rate in 15 years however, 16 Airmen lost their lives during the 101 critical days of summer. For summer 2009 the Air Force will join its sister services in a "Critical Days of Summer" joint service safety campaign. Last year's 101 Critical Days of Summer campaign was the best ever experienced. Let's continue that performance into this year's joint campaign. "Live to Play, play to live."
